LOTUS FEED

Long Bio · English

Lotus Feed are a post-punk / new-wave band from Cologne whose sound is deeply rooted in the musical heritage of the late 1970s and 1980s. A defining element of their music is the interplay of floating, melancholic basslines, driving rhythms and expansive, effect-laden guitars, creating a dense and immersive sonic atmosphere. This foundation is complemented by intense, emotional vocals that oscillate between introspection, urgency and underlying darkness.

Since the late 2000s, Lotus Feed have steadily carved out a distinctive place within the post-punk and wave scene. Their songs combine hypnotic momentum with sharp edges, conveying both melancholic depth and raw energy. Over the years, the band has released several albums, EPs and singles and performed extensively across Germany and Europe. Along the way, they have shared stages with acts such as New Model Army, The Chameleons, B-Movie and Charles de Goal.

In 2020, the album Songs From The Silent Age was released on the Paris-based label ICY COLD Records, consistently developing the band’s characteristic sound. After a creative break, Lotus Feed are currently working on new material, exploring new facets of their sonic identity.
